

3 1833 03576 5111

Gc
929.2
P16106
no.8

500477

REYNOLDS HISTORICAL GENEALOGY COLLECTION

Digitized by the Internet Archive in 2012

<http://archive.org/details/painefamilyregi00pain>

THE PAINE FAMILY REGISTER, OR GENEALOGICAL NOTES AND QUERIES.

No. 8.] Albany, N. Y., Jan. 1, 1859.

106.]

Unavoidable circumstances have delayed the publication of this number of the Register till the present time, more to the regret of the undersigned, probably, than to that of its readers. During the past year, other and more important duties have so encroached upon the little time that has been heretofore devoted to this purpose, that it has been quite impossible to hasten its preparation a single day. As the same reasons are likely to exist for some time to come, it is deemed best not to propose a continuance of the publication at regular intervals, or even to promise positively its continuance at all. Indeed, so considerable are the disadvantages under which the work is carried on in its present bands, that personal considerations would dictate its entire surrender. It seems scarcely possible that, under such circumstances, satisfaction should be given to those interested in the object to which the paper is devoted, and some efforts have been made to find other parties who, possessing equal zeal and better opportunities, would assume the responsibility of the publication. But as no such person has yet been found, and as many subscribers have expressed their regret at the prospect of its discontinuance, another effort will be made to keep it alive.

It is some satisfaction to know that the Register has fulfilled, to some extent, the purpose for which it was started. It has excited a greater interest in the genealogy and history of the family, among its members; it has stimulated research among neglected records, and many valuable and interesting facts have been rescued from forgetfulness and loss; and especially a spirit of friendliness and good feeling has been promoted between the scattered representatives of the race. A large amount of material has been collected and continual additions are making to the stock, which only requires to be arranged in proper order to throw valuable light upon the early history and progress of the Paines in America.

From these sources it would be easy to fill many numbers of the Register with interesting matter, much of which would not find so appropriate a place in a more formal genealogical work.

It is the present intention of the undersigned to issue in the course of the coming summer, a new number of the paper, comprising, probably, the amount of several numbers, but otherwise of corresponding size and style, of the appearance of which, with the terms, due notice will be given by circular to the present subscribers. In that number place will be found for the communications of several correspondents whose favors have been some time waiting insertion. In the meantime correspondents will, it is hoped, continue to furnish the results of their researches, as before, for whether the Register is continued or not, it is desirable that the materials for a complete history of the families of our name should be collected and preserved where they can at any time be referred to or used.

HENRY D. PAINE, M. D.,

104 State st., Albany, N. Y.

107.] GENEALOGY OF THE PAINE FAMILY OF EASTHAM, MASS., CONTINUED.

Collected and arranged by LEMUEL C. PAINE, M. D., Albion, Orleans county, N. Y.

[In the previous articles relating to this Genealogy, statements have been given, as far as known, of the descendants of I. SAMUEL; II THOMAS; III. ELISHA; IV. JOHN, and X. DORCAS—five of the ten children of Thomas Paine, Sen. and Mary Snow, his wife, the original heads of the Paine family of Eastham, Mass. There remain, as subjects to complete this Genealogy, V. NICHOLAS; VI. JAMES; VII. JOSEPH; VIII. ELEAZER; IX. MARY. Of these, except VII. JOSEPH, but little has been ascertained. All that has been, however, will be found given in their order, in the following statement. Additional information is requested, and if obtained, will be arranged and published hereafter.]

[The following corrections to Art. [79] have been received:

JANE, R. W., daughter of Abner, I, 10, 1, 1, died 1856.

JOHN, I, 10, 1, 1, 2, was born 1801.

FREDERICK WILLIAM, son of William E., I, 10, 1, 1, 7, was born 1843.]

V. NICHOLAS PAINE, fifth son of Thomas Paine, Sen., and Mary Snow, his wife, b. —; m. Hannah —, Their children were: 1. Thankful, b. March 14, 1699; 2. Priscilla, b. Oct. 16, 1701; 3. Philip, b. Nov. 19, 1704; d. April 10, 1725; 4. Lois, b. Sept. 29, 1705; 5. Abigail, b. Aug. 3, 1707; 6. Hannah, b. Sept. 24, 1709. Mrs. Hannah Paine d. Jan. 24, 1731. They resided in Eastham. Nothing more is known of the descendants of this family, and as there appears to have been no male descendant to bear up the name, its identity, of course, has become extinct.

VI. JAMES PAINE, sixth son of Thomas Paine, Sen., and Mary Snow, his wife, b. —; m. Bethiah Thatcher, in 1691, and settled in the town of Barnstable, Barnstable county, Mass. Their children were: 1. James, b. —; d. young; 2. THOMAS; 3. Bethiah, b. —; d. —; 4. Bethiah, b. —; 5. Mary, b. —; 6. Experience, b. —; 7. Rebecca, b. —, d. young. Nothing more is known of this family, except what follows:

VI. 2. THOMAS PAINE (Rev. Thomas Paine, of Weymouth), b. —, m. Eunice Treat, daughter of Rev. Samuel Treat, at Boston, April 21, 1721. They had one son (whether more children is unknown), 1. ROBERT TREAT.

VI. 2. 1. ROBERT TREAT PAINE (a signer of the Declaration of Independence), was born in Boston, 1731. He was married, but his wife's name has not been ascertained. He had one son, who was first named Thomas, afterwards changed to ROBERT TREAT, and who distinguished himself somewhat as a poet.—See Art. [67], Paine Fam. Reg.

VII. JOSEPH PAINE, seventh son of Thomas Paine, Sen., and Mary Snow, his wife, was b. —, m. Patience Sparrow (daughter of Jonathan Sparrow, Esq., and sister of Rebecca Sparrow, first wife of II, 7, JOSHUA PAINE),

Allen County Public Library
Ft. Wayne, Indiana

May 27, 1691. Their children were: 1, EBENEZER, b. April 8, 1692; 2, Hannah, b. July 5, 1694; 3, Joseph, b. March 24, 1697; 4, RICHARD, b. March 28, 1699. Joseph Paine, Sen., died Oct. 1, 1712. In an old record, the following description is given of him: "He was very Stout, and flung Coll. Thatcher, the Champion of the Bay State, att Commencement."

VII, 1, EBENEZER PAINE, son of Joseph Paine, m. Hannah Hopkins, Dec. 13, 1721. Their children were: 1, Ebenezer, b. Nov. 26, 1722; 2, Elizabeth, b. July 7, 1724; 3, NATHANIEL, b. Aug. 15, 1727; 4, Abigail.

VII, 1, 3, NATHANIEL PAINE [supposed to be the son of Ebenezer Paine, as here stated—it is given as found upon the town records of Eastham], m. Thankful Young, April 29, 1753. Their children were: 1, John, b. Aug. 21, 1750; 2, Batsheba, b. Feb. 5, 1758; 3, Betty, b. April 15, 1760; 4, Sarah, b. May 8, 1765; 5, Nathaniel, b. July 4, 1768.

VII, 4, RICHARD PAINE, son of Joseph Paine, m. Phebe Myrick, Oct. 20, 1726. Their children were: 1, Richard, b. —; 2, Betsey, b. —; 3, Hannah, b. Dec. 15, 1728; 4, JOSEPH, b. in Eastham, Mass., April 21, 1741; 5, William, b. Sept. 30, 1743; 6, Thomas, b. Dec. 19, 1745; 7, Phebe, b. —; 8, Ruth, b. —.

VII, 4, 4, JOSEPH PAINE, son of Richard Paine, m. Phebe Rich, Jan. 20, 1767. She was born in Truro, Mass., March 3, 1747. He died in Standish, Me., Oct. 13, 1827. She died in Standish, also, Oct. 8, 1828. They lived together 60 years, and raised ten children, viz: 1, MYRICK, b. July 22, 1768; 2, JOSEPH, b. Aug. 6, 1771; 3, RICHARD and 4, PHEBE (twins), b. Sept. 24, 1773; 5, URIAH, b. Nov. 27, 1775; 6, Thomas, b. March 2, 1778; 7, Huldah, Feb. 15, 1780; 8, FREEMAN, b. Aug. 8, 1782; 9, Joshua, b. April 25, 1785; 10, John Knowles, b. March 20, 1787. The seven first were born in Eastham, Mass., the three last were born in Standish, Me. They all lived to raise families of their own, and are now all deceased except the two eldest.

VII, 4, 4, 1, MYRICK PAINE, son of Joseph Paine, m. Dorcas Myrick, of Eastham. Her mother, Hannah, was the third child of Richard, the fourth child of VII, Joseph Paine. She died Nov. 4, 1838, aged 69 years. He is still living, at the advanced age of nearly 90 years. Their children were: 1, HANNAH, b. Feb. 17, 1792; 2, NANCY, b. April 20, 1794; 3, WILLIAM, b. Jan. 12, 1796; 4, Lucy, b. Jan. 12, 1798; 4, Aug. 20, 1800; 5, JOSEPH WALLACE, b. June 13, 1800, d. at Bridgeton, Me., Oct. 11, 1856; 6, Lucy, b. May 21, 1802; 7, Miriam, b. Jan. 18, 1804; 8, Aug. 23, 1829; 8, SAMUEL OSBORNE, b. Oct. 31, 1807; 9, DORCAS, b. Dec. 15, 1810.

VII, 4, 4, 1, 1, HANNAH PAINE, daughter of Myrick Paine, m. William Butler, Jr., May 27, 1817. Children: 1, WILLIAM P., b. in Thomaston, Me., May 23, 1818; 2, JOHN II., b. in Thomaston, Oct. 11, 1819; 3, GEORGE W., b. in Sandwich, N. H., Jan. 25, 1822; 4, JOSIAH RICH, b. in Sandwich, June 24, 1829; 5, CHARLES b. at Sandwich, Nov. 27, 1830; 6, LUCY W., b. at Sandwich, Aug. 27, 1832; 7, FRANK, b. in Bethelchene, N. H., Dec. 26, 1835.

VII, 4, 4, 1, 1, 1, WILLIAM P. BUTLER, m. Aristene Jameson, Aug. 5, 1843, at Wilkesbarre, Penn. He resides at Grand Rapids, Wis. Is a school teacher and justice of the peace. Has two children living—a son and a daughter.

VII, 4, 4, 1, 1, 2, JOHN H. BUTLER, m. Charlotte Libby, of Boston, Oct. —, 1849. They have two children—Elliott L., b. May —, 1852, and Emma Randall, b. March 7, 1856. He graduated at Dartmouth College, was first Usher, and then Principal, of the Trimmer School, Boston, for a number of years. He is now a counselor of the Suffolk bar, Boston.

VII, 4, 4, 1, 1, 3, GEORGE W. BUTLER, m. Sarah Mitchell, of Portland, Me., Dec. 31, 1846. Their children: 1, Herbert Lowville, b. June 7, 1847; 2, George, b. Oct. 9, 1850; 3, Delia, b. Dec. 25, 1854. He is a painter and daguerreian artist in Portland, Me.

VII, 4, 4, 1, 1, 4, JOSIAH RICH BUTLER, m. Sophronia B. Spear, of Boston (a great Spiritualist), Feb. 1852. She died April 3, 1856, leaving one child—Ella Sophronia, b. Feb. 5, 1856. He is a clerk in Boston; lives in Melrose, Mass.

VII, 4, 4, 1, 1, 5, CHARLES BUTLER, Professor and Teacher of Music, in Boston and vicinity; UNM.

VII, 4, 4, 1, 1, 6, LUCY W. BUTLER, has taught school in Boston; now resides with her parents, at West Buxton, Me.; unm.

VII, 4, 4, 1, 1, 7, FRANK BUTLER, clerk in Boston; unm.

VII, 4, 4, 1, 2, NANCY PAINE, daughter of Myrick Paine; unm; resides with her father in Standish, Me.

VII, 4, 4, 1, 3, WILLIAM PAINE, son of Myrick Paine, m. Louisa Otis, of Limington, Me., Sept. 29, 1829. She was b. April 7, 1807. Their children are: 1, Lucinda, b. April 1, 1833, vocal and instrumental musician—teaches music upon the piano in the city of Portland; 2, Marcia Ann, b. March 15, 1839, has received a good education, and is also an expert upon the piano; 3, Clara, b. June 1, 1845; 4, George Preston, b. Jan. 30, 1847.

He was brought up a farmer to the age of 16, since that time has been a teacher of vocal music, County Commissioner for Cumberland county, Me., from 1854 to 1857, and a justice of the peace for many years. He is an active politician, and a decided temperance man. Resides in the town of Standish, Me.

VII, 4, 4, 1, 5, JOSEPH WALLACE PAINE, son of Myrick Paine, m. Sarah Nudd, Sept. 4, 1823, in Standish, Me. Their children are: 1, Ann Maria, b. June 23, 1823, m. Alvin D. Blake, Sept. 26, 1841, they have two children, a son and daughter, they have separated—he to parts unknown, she resides with her two children in the city of Bridgeton, Me.; 2, Nancy Frances, b. May 31, 1826, m. — Jordan, of Bridgeton, Me., in 1853; 3, Ellen, b. in 1832, m. James Carter, blacksmith, at Bridgeton, Me., in 1853; 4, JOSEPH MYRICK, b. — 1837, and 5, Amanda, b. — 1843, both live with their mother at Bridgeton, Me.

VII, 4, 4, 1, 6, LUCY PAINE, m. Stephen C. Watson, July 15, 1827, in Standish, Me. Their children are: 1, Samuel S. Watson, b. in Denmark, Me., Nov. 19, 1828, m. Mary P. Ingalls, of Tremont, Ill., June 8, 1854, she d. in 1856, without issue, at Indianola, Iowa, where he with his parents now reside; he is a goldsmith by trade, and has traveled much throughout the United States; 2, Charles Watson, b. in Standish, Me., Dec. 4, 1830, m. Amanda J. Archer, of Camden, N. J., in 1856, where he is settled in trade; they have one child; 3, John R. Watson, b. in Standish, May 29, 1836. He is a teacher and daguerreian artist at Indianola, Iowa; unm.

VII, 4, 4, 1, 8, SAMUEL OSBORNE PAINE, m. Jane Mitchell, of Standish, Nov. 24, 1840. He lives with his father and carries on the farm. Their children are: 1, Lucy Ann, b. May 21, 1831; 2, Marshall, b. Sept. 7, 1833; 3, Olive, b. May 19, 1836; 4, Parker Francis, b. Nov. 17, 1853. These all live at home, unmarried.

VII, 4, 4, 1, 9, DORCAS PAINE, m. Marshall Thomas, of Harrison, Me., Jan. 26, 1842. Have one child: 1, Caroline, eight years old. He is an extensive farmer.

VII, 4, 4, 2, JOSEPH PAINE, Jr., m. Eleanor Martin, Aug. 7, 1794. She died Aug. 28, 1848. He is still living, and resides in N. Bridgeton, Me. Their children were:

1, Jonathan Gould Paine, b. July 31, 1795, m. Sarah S. Haven, March 21, 1819. He died March 26, 1827. They had one child—James Lygon Paine, who is married and settled in North Waterford, Me. They have children—number and names unknown.

2. Elizabeth Paine, b. May 4, 1797, m. Frederick Scammon, of Saco, Me., June 2, 1822. She died June 23, 1833, leaving one child—Isaac Watts Scammon, who is married, and lives in Por land, Me.

3. Bryan Paine, b. Dec. 9, 1768, m. Mary Warren, Dec. 1, 1846. They have no children. They are respectably settled in Standish, Me.

4. Ebenezer Paine, b. Oct. 5, 1800, m. Harriet Short, of Portland, Me., and lives in Standish, Me. He has no children.

5. Phoebe Paine, b. June 2, 1802, m. John K. Proctor, of Waterford, Me., d. Aug. 25, 1851; left no children.

6. Eleanor Paine, b. Jan. 17, 1804, m. James Weymouth Haven, Feb. 24, 1824; d. ———, leaving one child only—Arthur Paine Haven, who perished about three years since in California, by being buried in an avalanche. He was unmarried.

7. Rebecca Paine, b. April 19, 1806, m. Josiah Proctor, of Waterford, Me., where they now reside. They have two children—a son and a daughter—names unknown.

8. Charles Catesworth Pinckney Paine, b. July 3, 1808, m. Mary March Haven, Oct. 5, 1837. They reside at North Bridgeton, Me. Have several children—names unknown.

9. Charlotte Paine, b. Sept. 1, 1810, m. John G. Haven, a sea captain, Nov. 12, 1834. Their children are: 1, Emeline, b. July 3, 1837; 2, John Quincy Adams, b. ———; 3, Charlotte Amelia. They all live in California.

10. Joseph Paine, 3d, b. April 5, 1813, m. Eliza Ann Lowell, Oct. 13, 1836. They reside in the city of Portland, Me. Their children are: 1, Sidney; 2, Joseph Henry; 3, George Franklin.

The above named ten children were all born in Standish, Me. He resides in Bridgeton, Me., with his son, C. C. P. Paine.

VII, 4, 4, 3, RICHARD PAINE, m. Sarah Meserve, of Standish, Me., Nov. 20, 1794. She died Oct. 18, 1831. He died Oct. 1, 1848. Their children were: 1, Stephen, b. 24, 1795; 2, Mary, b. July 15, 1797; 3, Richard, Jr., b. May 22, 1799; 4, Sarah, b. Feb. 1, 1801; 5, Henry, b. Aug. 20, 1802; 6, Julia, b. April 12, 1804; 7, Chloe, b. Jan. 25, 1806; 8, John, b. Sept. 10, 1807. All born in Standish, Me. He was an industrious and enterprising farmer. He began in the world with nothing—brought up a large family respectably, and left a large property at his death.

VII, 4, 4, 3, 1, STEPHEN PAINE, m. Patience Whitney, of Standish, Aug. 14, 1818. He first settled on a farm in Bridgeton, Me., where all his children were born. He removed from Bridgeton to Somersworth, N. H., in 1833, and from thence to Lyndon, Sheboygan county, Wis., about 1840. Their children are: 1, Richard H. Paine, b. Aug. 18, 1819, m. ———; 2, Sarah Ann, b. May —, 1821, d. ——— 1843; 3, Martha Maria, b. April —, 1823; 4, Patience Julia, b. Sept. —, 1825; 5, Stephen W., b. Oct. —, 1827; 6, Octavia R., b. June —, 1829; 7, Renssellaer C., b. May 12, 1833. All reside in Lyndon, Sheboygan county, Wis.

VII, 4, 4, 3, 2, MARY PAINE, m. John Kimball, of Standish, Sept. 23, 1834. He was a blacksmith, and died in Standish, April 16, 1850. They had one child—Martha Augusta, b. Jan. 11, 1836, d. Aug. 19, 1842. His respected widow, Mrs. Kimball, resides at Standish Corners, Me.

VII, 4, 4, 3, 3, RICHARD PAINE, Jr., m. Olive Poland, of Standish, Nov. 18, 1833. He first commenced in trade in Harrison, Me.; then moved on a farm in Lovell, Me.; and from thence to Steep Falls, in Standish, where the greater part of his family now reside. Their children are: 1, Phineas Ingalls, b. July 31, 1854; 2, Julia Ann, b. July 16, 1855, d. May 30, 1857; 3, John H., b. March 25, 1837; 4, Carroll S., b. Feb. 23, 1839, d. May 25, 1839; 5, Francis O., b. Oct. 18, 1840; 6, Chloe P., b. May 12, 1843.

VII, 4, 4, 3, 4, SARAH PAINE, m. Nathan Barnard, of Bridgeton, Me., Jan. 9, 1840. One child, Luther Powers, b. Oct. 6, 1843. He is a farmer, resides at Lovell, Me.

VII, 4, 4, 3, 5, HENRY PAINE, m. Eliza Parker, of Standish, April 17, 1828. He was a merchant in Lovell, Me., a number of years. He then moved to Milan, N. H., where he still resides, having acquired a handsome property. Their children are: 1, Cordelia M., b. Jan. —, 1829; she married Hiram Wheeler, of Milan, Me., and died at the birth of her first child, which is now living; 2, Mary A., b. July —, 1831; 3, Edwin, b. March —, 1833; 4, Gardner, b. Dec. —, 1834; 5, Samuel, b. March —, 1836; 6, Henry, Jr., b. —, 1837; 7, Clinton, b. —, 1838; 8, Eliza J., b. —; 9, Martha Ann, b. —; 10, Elden Parker, b. —; 11, Sarah Jane, b. —.

VII, 4, 4, 3, 6, JULIA PAINE, unm. Resides with her sister, the widow Kimball, at Standish, Me.

VII, 4, 4, 3, 7, CHLOE PAINE, m. Luther Powers, of Sweden, Me., Oct. 9, 1833. No children. They reside in Pennsylvania; he is engaged in the lumbering business.

VII, 4, 4, 3, 8, JOHN PAINE, m. Sarah Davis, of Standish, Jan. 15, 1834. She died without issue, and he married 2d wife, Angelina Bradbury, of Portland, by whom he has one child—Frank H., b. Sept. 25, 1854. He resides in Portland, and carries on the cooping business.

VII, 4, 4, 4, PHEBE PAINE, m. William Higgins, of Standish, Jan. 8, 1795. He, a very worthy man, an orthodox deacon, d. April 14, 1820. She died Dec. 3, 1829. Their children were:

1. Eliza Higgins, m. Joseph Moody, of Standish, had two sons, William and Charles, and died.

2. Phoebe Higgins, m. Eliza's widower, has several children; names not given.

3. Huldah Higgins, m. Daniel Moody, brother of Joseph Moody, moved to the east and died.

4. Abigail Higgins, m. Oliver Stoner, of Conway, N. H., had two children and died.

5. Joseph Higgins, m. Susan Rich; has six children, and is a respectable farmer in Standish.

6. William, m. a Miss Moody, had one child and died.

7. Robert Higgins, m. Abigail Berry, had one child, a daughter, and died.

8. Lucy Higgins, m. Reuben Harmon. They moved east, where he died, and she married again.

9. Nancy Higgins, m. John Rand, of Standish. They have six children, four sons and two daughters. Two of each are married.

10. Ansel Higgins, d. when about 20 years of age.

11. Almina Higgins, m. ——— and went to reside in the eastern part of Maine.

The family were predisposed to consumption, and several were cut off by that disease.

VII, 4, 4, 5, URIAH PAINE, m. Ruth Adams, of Westbrook, Me., Nov. 16, 1797. He died Oct. 8, 1835. She died Nov. 18, 1853. He was a leading man in the town of Standish; and there raised an industrious and enterprising family, consisting of the following children:

1. Zebulon Paine, b. in 1799, m. Margaret Starbird, of Portland, and moved to Eastport, Me., where he had some seven or eight children, and became one of the wealthiest men in that town. He died in 1856.

2. Daniel Paine, b. in 1801, m. Eliza Nudd, of Standish, and moved to Waterville, Me., where he had a respectable family, of some six or seven children, and died a few years since.

3. Harrison Paine, b. in 1803, and d. in 1827; unm.

4. Abigail Paine, b. in 1806. Lives respectably in the town of Standish; unm.

5. Oliver Paine, b. in 1807. Died when about 23 years old; unm.

6. Louisa Paine, b. —, d. when about 18 years old.
7. Isabel Paine, b. —, m. Chesley Higgins, of Standish. A respectable farmer.

8. Jashua Paine, b. in 1811, m. Mercy Lowell, of Buxton, Me., and lives on the old homestead farm, in Standish. They have five children.

VII, 4, 4, 8, FREEMAN PAINE, m. Hannah Rogers Clark, Oct. 26, 1812. He died Dec. 28, 1831; b. Aug. 8, 1782. She survives, and resides at Standish Corners, in easy circumstances. He was a respectable farmer. Their children were:

1. George Paine, b. Aug. 13, 1813. Died Nov. 30, 1831, aged 18 years.

2. Martha Maria Paine, b. March 4, 1818, m. C. C. P. Paine, her cousin, June 17, 1847, and settled in North Bridgeton, Me. Their children are: 1. Charles, b. Aug. 3, 1849; 2. Mary Caroline, b. Dec. 5, 1851; 3. Walter Paine, b. Dec. 31, 1855. He is a cooper by trade and a hard laboring man.

3. Freeman Paine, Jr., b. March 15, 1822. He is a blacksmith, and resides in Standish; unm.

4. Hannah Clark Paine, b. Sept. 18, 1824, m. John K. Proctor, of South Waterford, Me., Feb. 22, 1854. He is a machinist. Their children are: 1. Phebe Ellen, b. June 7, 1855; 2. Anna Letitia, b. July 26, 1857.

5. Harriet Elizabeth Paine, b. Aug. 31, 1830. She lives with her mother; unm.

End of the descendants of Joseph Paine, seventh son of Thomas Paine, Sen., of Eastham, as far as has been received.

The following addition to the descendants of Thomas Paine, Jr., second son of Thomas Paine, Sen., of Eastham, furnished by Lewis C. Paine, Esq., of Wilkesbarre, Penn., should come in immediately after II, Thomas Paine, and in place of II, 3, Jonathan Paine, erroneously stated, in Art. [25], Paine Family Register.

II, 3, JONATHAN PAINE, son of Thomas Paine, was b. in Eastham, now Truro, Feb. 1, 1685, m. Sarah —. He died May —, 1751. Their children (as far as known) were: 1. JONATHAN, JR.; 2. Daniel. The latter was the father of Barnabas Paine, who was the father of Barnabas Paine, Jr., who was the father of Samuel C. Paine, Esq., the present town clerk of Truro, Mass., all of Truro.

II, 3, 1, JONATHAN PAINE, JR., was b. Sept. 20, 1811, m. Hannah —. He died May —, 1751. Child: 1, JEREDIAH.

II, 3, 1, 1, JEREDIAH PAINE, was b. in Truro, Dec. 9, 1740, m. Hannah Paine, of Truro, April 12, 1760, by Barnabas Paine, Esq., of —. Their children were: 1. HIZKIAH, b. June 11, 1769; 2. Jedediah, d. at sea, unm.; 3. Shebner, b. —, m. Mary Paine, sister of Moses Paine. After residing at Truro several years, he moved with his wife and two daughters to Springfield, Mass., where the daughters were married. Nothing more has been heard from this family for several years. 4. Sarah, b. —, m. Gemalia Smith, resided in Truro; 5. Mary, b. —, m. William Callagher, resided at Provincetown, Mass.; 6. Pezina, b. —, m. Heman Myrick.

II, 3, 1, 1, 1, HIZKIAH PAINE, m. Eliza Smith. He was lost at sea in 1810. She died in 1815. Their children were: 1. JEREDIAH, b. Oct. 12, 1793, m. Phebe Ann Compton, of Perth Amboy, N. J., 1836; he was for many years and is now a ship master cut of New York city; resides in Brooklyn; 2. Hannah, b. —, 1795, m. John Hughes, of Truro, and resides there now (1858) having raised a large family of sons and daughters.

II, 3, 1, 1, 1, 1, JEREDIAH PAINE, m. —. Their children were: 1. LEWIS COMPTON, b. March 26, 1827; 2. Mary Eliza, b. Feb. 23, 1829, m. L. O. Carpenter, of Newburgh, N. Y.; has two children; Joseph and Minnie; 3. James Duncombe, b. June 14, 1833; resides at Brooklyn,

Long Island; 4. Anna Louisa, b. April 8, 1837, m. William W. Post, of Westbrook, Conn., March 26, 1856; has one child; Willie, b. —, 1857; resides in Brooklyn, L. I.; 5. Jedediah Chase, b. Feb. 23, 1840; 6. Lillie Leacock, b. May 27, 1842; 7. Alice Ida, b. July 27, 1848.

II, 3, 1, 1, 1, 1, 1, LEWIS COMPTON PAINE, m. 1st, Mary Campbell Lee, of Nanticoke, Wyoming Valley, Penn., Sept. 19, 1848. She d. Nov. 28, 1853; m. 2d, Annie E. Lee, of Sycamore Grove, Chester Valley, Penn., Oct. 15, 1857. Resides at Wilkesbarre, Penn.; coal operator, &c. His children are: 1. William Lewis, b. at Brooklyn, March 23, 1851; 2. Mary Lee, b. at Nanticoke, Nov. 21, 1853.

108.]

WOODSTOCK PAINES.

In addition to the corrections published in [103], I send the following:

The record of the children of Samuel Paine, the founder of this branch, as given in the "Register" [18] [78] [103], still needs amendment. The following is doubtless a correct list:

SAMUEL (2), b. Sept. 13, 1686; admitted to the ch. in Poudre Sept., 1719.

ANNA (2), b. Sept. 15, 1688.

SETH (2), b. Aug. 20, 1690; d. Jan. 18, 1772.

SARAH (2), b. Dec. 11, 1692.

JUDATH (2), b. Feb. 18, 1694-5.

NOAH (2), b. May 21, 1696.

STEPHEN (2), b. June 21, 1699.

DANIEL (2), b. Feb. 22, 1702; d. June 22, 1795.

EBENEZER (2), b. —.

SETH (the second son) married Mary —, who died May 7, 1762, aged 62. Seth and wife admitted to the ch. Jan., 1758.

In article [78], SETH (3), who was born Mar. 4, 1720, is put down as the son of Samuel (2) and Ruth (Perrin). Diligent enquiry has satisfied me that he was the son of Seth, above named, and Mary —, as in the following record:

Children of Seth (2) and Mary Paine:

SETH (3), b. Mar. 4, 1719-20; m. Mable Tyler, Nov. 1, 1749.

MARY (3), b. May 30, 1721.

HANNAH (3), b. June 10, 1722.

ELIJAH (3), b. Sept. 13, 1724.

JOSEPH (3), b. Feb. 9, 1726; d. Mar. 18, 1761, in Pomfret.

SARAH (3), b. July 14, 1728; d. Jan. 17, 1778, in Pomfret.

JOHN (3), b. July 4, 1731; d. June 2, 1754.

MARGARET (3), b. Mar. 23, 1733.

(Rev.) JOSHUA (3), b. Mar. 18, 1734; d. Dec. 19, 1799, in Sturbridge, Mass.

JUDITH (3), b. Feb. 18, 1737.

For a record of the family of SETH (3) and Mable (Tyler) Paine, see [50]. The following additional items have been collected from town and church records:

SETH (4), m. a Miss Lester of Preston, Conn.

JOHN (4), bap. Dec. 27, 1855.

ELIJAH (4), bap. March 13, 1757.

EBENEZER (4), bap. Oct. 1, 1758.

SARAH (4), m. Isaac Cushman ["she was well skilled in making cheese" — Cushman Genealogy, p. 178]; d. in Troy, N. Y., 1832.

ANNA (4), m. — Denison.

Children of Rev. JOSHUA (3) PAINE, son of SETH (2).

JOHN (4), b. —; educated at Harvard U.; was a lawyer in Sturbridge, Mass.: d. ab. 1814; left a daughter, who m. Prof. Torrey, of Vermont U., and d. ab. 1837.

(Rev.) JOSHUA (4), graduated at Harvard 1784, the second in his class; ordained at Cambridge July 10, 1787, and d. unm. Feb. 27, 1788. "A young man of decided piety, amiable manners, and promising talents as a preacher."
POLLY (4), b. 1766 d. Jan. 22, 1789, in Sturbridge. See [66].

AMARYLLIS (4), m. John H. Payson, of Pomfret, Ct.; d. May, 1834.

BETSEY (4), m. Rev. Otis Lane of Sturbridge; d. 1847, in Southbridge, Mass.

Children of JOSEPH (3), son of SETH (2):

SOLOMON (4), bap. Dec. 27, 1755.

HANNAH (4), bap. Sept. 2, 1759.

Children of Thomas (3), son of NOAH (2):

EZRA, bap. 1770; d. Oct. 17, 1857, aged 87, in Barre, Vt.

JOHN (4), bap. Dec. 25, 1757.

NOAH (4), bap. Apr. 2, 1758.

ANNA (4), bap. June 8, 1760.

THOMAS (4), bap. Apr. 24, 1763.

MARY (4), bap. May 5, 1765.

JUDITH (4), bap. Nov. 15, 1767.

JOANNA (4), bap. June 7, 1776.

These settled mostly in Brookfield, Vt., where their descendants are still found.

The following from Pomfret Ch. Records, I can not arrange.

1784, May 30, Peggy Paine admitted to the church.

1817, July 6, Ellisia Paine, and Jerusha his wife, adm. to ch.

1822, July 3, Amos Paine adm. to ch. from ch. in Brooklynn. ROYAL PAINE.

169.] FROM THE NEW YORK CIVIL LIST.

The N. Y. Civil List contains the names of all the principal state and county officers, from the organization of the government to the date of publication, 1857. Among them are found the following:

EPHRAIM PAINE, Representative to the Provincial Congress from Dutchess co., 1775.

State Senators.

EPHRAIM PAINE, Middle District, 1780, 1781, 1783, 1784-6. He was also a member of the Senate of Appointment in 1780. Was expelled from the Senate in 1781, but was immediately re-elected by his constituents.

LYMAN PAINE, Western District, Auburn, 1820-1-2.

Assemblymen.

Ashael E. Paine, Delaware, 1815-16-17.

Brinton Paine, Dutchess, 1779-80-81; 1784-5-6-7.

Edward Paine, Onondaga, 1798-99.

Barnabas Payen [Paynel], Dutchess, 1792-3.

George Payn, Saratoga, 1848.

Noah Payn, Charlotte, 1779-80.

Lyman Payne, Monroe, 1833-4.

Samuel Payne, Chenango, 1804-5-6.

John C. Paine, Wyoming, 1835-6.

Presidential Electors.

Samuel Payne, Hamilton, Madison co., 1832.

County Judges.

Ephraim Paine, Dutchess, appointed Jan. 30, 1778, resigned Jan. 30, 1781.

County Clerks.

Ashael E. Paine, Delaware, 1810 and 1815.

Surrogates.

Benajah B. Paine, Chemung, 1844-7.

Elijah Payn, Columbia, 1851.

Mayors.

Nicholas E. Paine, Rochester, 1851.

110.] THE PAINES OF WORCESTER, MASS.

Continued from No. 7 [91].

In concluding the series of articles on the Paines of Worcester, we shall offer further particulars relative to the immediate ancestor of the various branches of the family—the Hon. Timothy Paine.

TIMOTHY, seventh and youngest child of the Hon. Nathaniel Paine, and Sarah Clark, his wife, was born July 30th, 1730, at Bristol, R. I. He "removed to Worcester at the age of eight years, and was long one of our most useful and respected citizens. Soon after leaving college he was engaged in the public service. The number and variety of offices he held exhibit the estimation in which he stood." His name stands fifth in the class of 1748, of Harvard College, Cambridge, "when the names were arranged according to the dignity of families." The following year, August 1st, 1749, when nineteen years old, he espoused Sarah Chandler, who was five years his senior, she having been born January 11th, 1725.

The life of Timothy Paine was an unchecked one until the approach of the revolution, when he experienced his due share of that tribulation which was the lot of most who embraced the royal cause.

In the year 1774, there occurred an event already treated of, and which we can best recur to again in the following quaint paragraph, selected from among the many similar ones which appeared in the newspapers of the day:

"It is reported from Worcester that last week 2 or 3000 men mustered there, and obliged the Honourable Timothy Paine, Esq., of that Place (who had lately taken the Oath of Councillor upon the new Plan) to declare that he would not serve in that Capacity of the future. 'Tis also said that several others whose Abode is in the Country, either have, or soon will do the same, as they find their Acceptance of that Post of Honour has rendered their private Situation very disagreeable, both to themselves and the People in general."

[Boston Evening Post, August 29, 1774.]

The three thousand men, valiant in overcoming one, "extended their lines through Main st. to the meeting house;" and through them walked and halted, by turns, as has been already related, the Hon. Timothy Paine. But not alone. His undaunted wife accompanied him. With heroism equal to any emergency, she declared that if he went she would go too. It was partially apprehended that personal violence would be offered Mr. Paine, but he escaped from his tormentors, "having suffered some wanton outrage of feeling in addition to the humiliation of the procession."

As we have stated, there were but five carriages in Worcester at this period, and those belonged to the two families of Paine and Chandler. The individual who kept them in repair derived his sole support from the patronage of the two leading families. He bore the proverbial name of Joe Miller. As the times changed he caught the infectious spirit of liberty, and to better his condition he deserted the ranks of royalty and allied himself with the patriots. He became their unscrupulous tool, being hired to "do the dirty work of the Whig party." To this political scavenger was allotted the probably not unwelcome task of insulting aristocracy and royalty, by knocking off the wig of their representative and upholder—the Hon. Timothy Paine.

* Lincoln's History of Worcester.

It is said that the blood of the Paines and the Chanderes flamed at this outrage. But their power and popularity had already gone. It was but just their wigs should follow. At that moment Mr. Paine vowed he would never wear that or any wig again—and he kept his word.

Though fallen from its former high estate, the wig did not wholly succumb to the spirit of revolution and innovation. Still conspicuous, and to be recognized for many years, it perambulated the streets of Worcester, perched upon the head of its former master's slave, into whose proper possession it passed after its degradation from contact with the rude hands of the rebels.*

Either nature or the institutions to which he was attached, and the position which he occupied, had rendered Mr. Paine somewhat arbitrary, as the following incident shows:

When the workmen who were locating the milestones between Boston and Worcester, arrived opposite the mansion of the Paine family, intending to give the next stone its proper position some distance from there, Mr. Paine observing them, saluted forth, and bestowing a douceur upon the men, commanded that the milestone—a milestone no longer—should be placed at his own door. It was done, and to this day proves that miles are not always of the same length.

In ancient days the Paines of Worcester lived in a style of free and generous hospitality, not uncommon with many families at that period. "Dined at Mr. Paine's, with much company," is frequently to be noted in President John Adams' Diary. It was at a dinner party there that he suffered the defeat and disfigurement already related, at the hands of Madam Paine, when he dared to propose the health of "the Devil," in opposing the ancient and loyal toast of "the King."

At the festive board of the Paine family, there emanated, too, not a few of those "chaste sallies of wit and humor" of which we are told Mr. Paine was so fond, and which, relished as much as the repast which his hospitality had spread there, as the wine circulated around, not infrequently set the table in a roar.

The mortification and defeat suffered by the Paines of Worcester attendant upon the success of the revolution, was not of long duration after the establishment of altered political institutions. Respect for personal character and ability, combined in the minds of many with a feeling of deference, not easily to be erased, though no official recognition of it could now be demanded, for their most ancient family, outweighed considerations of a mere political nature. Without any undue concessions to popular opinion to gain popular favor, the Hon. Timothy Paine became equally a candidate for the suffrages of the good people of Worcester county, now that they were their own masters, as when groaning under the sway of British colonial rule.

In the year 1789, Mr. Paine was a candidate for a seat in Congress. From the pens of the simple-minded, yet warm-hearted, electors of the district appeared many effusions in the journals of the day, advocating the claims of the candidate whose cause they espoused. We select some of these to show what was the popular estimate of the character of Mr. Paine, and as evincing the altered state of feeling towards the Paine family, on the score of their former martyrdom and now subdued loyalty.

For Thomas' Massachusetts Spy, Feb. 19, 1789.

To the respectable CITIZENS of the District of WORCESTER. As there appears to be no choice of a person in your district to represent you in the Federal Assembly, it behooves you to attend to the next election. The Hon. Mr. PAINE and the Hon. Mr. GROUT are still the highest candidates—each of them have their zealous friends. The Hon. Mr. Ward has had a number of votes; but the number given has by no means been equal to the number given for Mr. Paine and Grout. It seems almost reduced to a certainty that either Mr. Paine or Mr. Grout will be eventually chosen. They are characters that are known, both of them having been long in the county.

Mr. Paine's acquaintance in the county has become more diffuse than Mr. Grout's; having held a number of respectable offices, by which the generality of the people have a knowledge of him. However, it may be necessary to delineate the characters of both—in short, it has become necessary.

No man in the district doubts but what Mr. Paine sincerely wishes for an efficient government, a government adequate to the purposes of protecting each individual in the full and ample enjoyment of all his rights, and there is no doubt but that Mr. Paine will be a warm advocate for the proposed amendments; that he is a friend to the substantial yeomanry of the district, is equally true. The integrity of his heart and the great purity of his morals have never been questioned; he early received a liberal education, and has always been esteemed a man of real substantial abilities, though not of the most splendid kind; yet he is possessed of that kind of knowledge which really will always render him extremely useful in public assemblies; no man distinguishes the right from the wrong reader than he; the great use that has been made of him as a referee and as an arbitrator, in this as well as in other counties, demonstrates that he is esteemed for his abilities and impartiality; he is a man of large landed property, and which lands are in the commonwealth of Massachusetts, and mostly in your district, consequently he is a proper person to represent the yeomanry of your district; and added to this his easy circumstances and leisure, will admit his constant attendance on the Federal Court.

I shall not say anything to the disadvantage of Mr. Grout. I mean to state facts simply. Grout's advantages in the early part of his life, were by no means equal to Mr. Paine's. No one will deny that Mr. Grout is a man of good natural capacity; but to say that he is a man of real science, would be doubted; as would also, by many, his having abilities every way adequate to represent the great and important district of Worcester. [Sic, &c.]

Consider, my friends, which is the properest person of the two, and give your votes as your good sense shall direct—put away all little foolish prejudices, and elect such a man as you will not be ashamed of hereafter—who is able and willing to assist and support your dearest rights and privileges—whether he is named Paine, Grout, Ward or Kinsly. LANCASTER.

In answer to an article from one of his opponent's constituents, signed "Worcester District," which declared that Mr. Paine, still favored monarchy and aristocracy, and that his friends "voted for him because they wished to have laws made that should abolish equality, and raise them and their sons to honours, titles and dignities, in conformity to the British Government," the following spirited production appeared:

* For a personal narrative of the sufferings of the Paine family, consult Correspondence of the Hon. Timothy Paine, with his Excellency, Thomas Gage, Captain General and Commander-in-Chief of the Province of Massachusetts Bay—in the Department of State, from the original in the State Paper Office in London; Correspondence of the William Paine with the Right Hon. Lord Walsingham; Bancroft's History of the United States, vol. VII, p. 107, chap. VIII.—The Fate of the Mandamus Councillors."

For Thomas' Massachusetts Spy, Feb. 19, 1789.

TO THE FREE ELECTORS OF WORCESTER DISTRICT:

THE ungenerous methods taken by some persons to injure the Hon. Mr. PAINE in your esteem, are truly contemptible, and are evident—the avowed of a party to serve their own purposes. But has one thing been said against his uprightness—his integrity—or his abilities to serve you? No!—the tongue of slander has not yet dared to impeach him in either of these respects. It is evident from the returns made, that at the late choice, he stood the highest in the esteem of the respectable voters of this District, and it is hoped that on the ensuing day of election, all who wish to promote the peace and tranquillity of this District, and are desirous of choosing an able, virtuous Representative, will give their sanction, and vote for the who is known, notwithstanding the breath of slander might insinuate to the contrary, to be a man of true republican principles, and one who will with firmness support our civil and religious rights and privileges.

Hon. TIMOTHY PAINE, Esq.,

A FREE ELECTOR.

For notices of the Hon. Timothy Paine, in a similar connection, see also the American Herald of March 5th, 1789, Feb. 19th, 1789, and Feb. 26th, 1789, &c., &c.

The following production well evinces that its author, in his prefatory appeal to the editor, did not misappreciate his own acquisitions:

TO Mr. POWARS.

I am a plain unlettered man; you will therefore excuse any inaccuracies in the following piece.

WE are told there is no choice for a Representative for Congress in Worcester district. Mr. Paine and Mr. Grout are the highest. I know them both. Mr. Grout is a tolerable man. But then, Sir, I have an objection against him, because all his estate lies in Vermont and New Hampshire, and he is there all his time, and I am afraid he will not have time to devote to the service of his country; for it is really a critical time with us, and I want to have some man that has leisure, that is a man of good landed estate in our district, and a man that has ability to serve us. I have great respect for Mr. Grout; but then, Sir, the great objections which I have mentioned, will prevent my voting for him. Mr. Paine we all know; we know him to be a good, moral, honest man, and a man of good sense; and he has a great landed property in this district; and it appears to me that he will do as well, if not better, than Mr. Grout or Mr. Ward. Besides, Sir, what is important, in my mind, he is for amendments, and he is a steady, firm, but substantial man, and will be attended to. I therefore hope we all shall unite at the next election, and choose a man we shall not be ashamed of.

BROOKFIELD.

[American Herald, Feb. 26, 1789.]

For explanation or apology for the political course pursued by the Paine family, at the most interesting period in their genealogy, and which entailed upon them obloquy and hatred, added to ultimate ruin, and that contempt which invariably attends failure in an unpopular cause, we must refer, among other authorities, to the pages of the accomplished historian of their political martyrdom, and the local annals of the town of Worcester.

Though eloquently vindicated their political sentiments and claims to high personal regard, he nevertheless affects to believe that their posterity would be loath to acknowledge such an ancestry, when half apologetically, he declares that "it is not for the purpose of wantonly drawing from oblivion those whose descendants have been among our worst citizens, that the names of the royalists are mentioned in the following narrative," proceeding then to chronicle events in which the Paine family bore a prominent part, and to "place loyalty and patriotism in their just contrast," as if still willing to believe, in the emphatic and unadorned phraseology of early patriotism, afterwards exchanged for language of a far more vehement and expressive character, that "Every Fool sees a Tory, but every Tory sees a Fool."

We believe that the Paines of Worcester, acting in their individual case according to the dictates of reason and honor, sought to uphold that form of government, which they supposed best secures the love of liberty protected by law, preserving its people alike from the servitude of despotism on the one hand, and the anarchy of unrestrained freedom on the other, and, in the words of one of the great masters of the noblest of sciences, which he applied to the people of his own country, that country itself the most splendid embodiment of the great truth he inculcates, that they aimed to be "loyal, yet free; obedient, yet independent."

The Axes borne by the Paines of Worcester, are: Az., a bend, raguly, between sixteiles or. Crest: An otter or., pass., in grass vert., in his mouth a fish ar. Motto: Duce Natura sequor.—Borne by Payne of Midlow, St. Neots, Co. Hertford, Eng.

Here ends the genealogy of the Paines of Worcester. Those individuals, allied to the Paines of Worcester, who have subscribed to the Paine Family Register, are—George Chandler, M. D., Hon. Thomas Kinnicut, William Kinnicut, Esq., Charles Paine, Esq., Mr. George Sturgis Paine, Mr. Nathaniel Paine (2 copies), George A. Trumbull, Esq., and Joseph Trumbull, Esq., of Worcester.

Mr. Joshua Blake, Charles Callahan Perkins, Esq., Miss Eliza Sturgis, and Henry P. Sturgis, Esq., of Boston.

William Russell Paine, Esq., of Brookline, and Leverett Saltonstall, Esq., of Chestnut Hill, Mass.

111] FLATTERING—ROBERT TREAT PAINE.

"The first of these [Thomas Cushing] was a distiller, and the last [Robert Treat Paine] a lawyer, and both were weak, insignificant men, the tools of Samuel Adams, the grand confederate of the honest traitor, Franklin."—Political Magazine (Eng.), July, 1781.

112] AMORY FAMILY.

REBECCA, daughter of Thomas Amory of Boston, born 1735, married EDWARD PAYNE. They resided on State street, then called King street. He was standing at his door at the time of the Boston massacre, in March, 1770, when a musquet ball struck his arm and broke it, as the troops fired on the people. He was rich, and left a handsome fortune to his children. Mrs. PAYNE died in 1796. Their children were: 1. WILLIAM PAYNE, who married Mrs. Dobie (born Gray), and had two sons who grew up, but died unmarried. 2. REBECCA PAYNE, married Gov. Christopher Gore, who left a large estate to Harvard College, and for whom the library building is called "Gore Hall." He built the fine old house at Waltham, now in the family of the Greens. He was for many years our Minister in London. Two sisters of Mrs. Gore (3), Miss MARY PAYNE, and (4) Miss SALLY PAYNE, lived long in the house next north of the Athenaeum, on Beacon street. This family is now quite extinct.—Genealog. Reg., vol. X, p. 62.

* Boston Evening Post, Aug. 19, 1777.

† Sir William Blackstone—Commentaries on the Laws of England.

Mr. Thomas C. Amory (born 1767) was engaged extensively in commerce, with his cousin, WILLIAM PAYNE, and afterwards with his brother, Jonathan Amory.—Id., p. 68.

113.] JOSHUA PAINE OF STURBRIDGE

Was a native of Pomfret, Conn., in 1734. He graduated at Yale in 1759, and succeeded the Rev. Caleb Rice as minister of Sturbridge, Mass., in 1761. He was a patriot of the Revolution, and gave up a portion of his salary for the relief of his people, and made a special contribution of a barrel of gunpowder to aid the struggle for liberty. Upon a salary 222 dollars, he educated two sons at college, one of whom was a minister—doubtless Joshua, a graduate of Harvard in 1784, minister of Charlestown from 1787 till his death in 1788, aged 24. The father died Dec. 28, 1799, aged 65.—Allen's American Biog. Dict. See also Washburn's Hist. of Leicester Academy.

114.] CENSUS OF U. S. PENSIONERS.

In 1840 was published by order of Congress a census of all the Revolutionary and other pensioners then living. The list comprises eighteen or twenty thousand names, including the following members of the Paine family:

Name.	Age.	Residence.
William Paine,	79,	Anson, Maine.
Thomas Paine,	84,	Powell, Maine.
Rhoda Paine,	88,	Mansfield, Mass.
Susanna Paine,	73,	Brewster, Mass.
William Paynes,	80,	W. Stockbridge, Mass.
Simon Paine,	78,	Smithfield, R. I.
Margaret Paine,	73,	New Shoreham, R. I.
Richard Paine,	83,	Montpelier, Vt.
Jesse Paine,	81,	Vershire, Vt.
Jabez Paine,	84,	Westminster, Vt.
Thomas Paine,	105,	Douglas, Penn.
Richard Payne, Sen.,	77,	Culpepper Co., Va.
Ann Payne,	80,	Bath Co., Va.
Mathey Payne,	76,	Walker Co., Ala.
Edward Paine,	96,	Painesville, O.
Solomon Paine,	79,	Rootstown, O.
John Payne,	79,	Waterford, O.
Aaron Payne,	50,	Ogle Co., Ill.

115.] MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

Feb. 4, 1699-70. WILLIAM PAINE (and 14 others) were admitted into communion with Dr. Coleman's Church, Boston.—Memoir of Dr. B. Coleman, &c.

JUNE 6, 1712. THOMAS PAINE, of New Castle, and Mary Gookin of Sherburne, were married by Rev. D. G.—Sherburne Records.

1669. A. Martin of Rehoboth, bequeaths a legacy to SAMUEL son of STEPHEN PAINE.—Gen. Register, vol. VII.

1728, Oct. 14. THOMAS PAINE of Boston, married Sarah Winslow of Marshfield.—Marshfield Records, Gen. Reg., vol. V.

1652. Debtors to the estate of A. Winthrop, PETER PAINE and Mr. WILLIE PAINE. Doubtful debts: Peter Paine.—Suffolk Wills, Genealog. Reg., vol. VIII.

1638. Estate of James Atwood. STEPHEN PAINE a creditor. On this estate, 1634, a dividend is made to MART. PAYNE.—Suffolk Co. Records.

1658. Will of Francis Chickering, Dedham. "The rest of houses, lands, debts and goods, to be divided between the five daughters; accounting £100 already paid" STEPHEN PAINE as part of his wives portion, to be so much of her pte."

1637, &c. Mr. WILLIAM PAYNE and Capt. Thomas Clark of Boston, employed mining on the black lead mine in Sturbridge.—Genol. Reg., 'ol. X, p. 160.

1740. A committee of Plymouth Court was appointed to consider a proposal of WILLIAM PAINE of Eastham, and others, to catch porpoises with a net, and an order was granted giving permission till the last of May, 1742.—Felt's Annals of Salem.

1773. Dr. [WILLIAM] PAINE, of Worcester, advertises that he will inoculate for small pox by the Settonian method, in Salem.—Id.

116.] - SCRAPS FROM BOSTON RECORDS.

1649. Aug. 27, Anthony Stoddard may sell his land to Moses PAYNE [10] [41] of Braintree, and may take it next unto y^e hee hath hired of y^e towne, or elsewhere if he see cause.—Dike's Hist. of Boston.

1650. Oct. 3. The town disposed of 500 acres at Braintree to Moses PAYNE, and it is to join the 500 acres with the former 500 acres set to him, taking in all the land betwixt the two great "Blue Hills, and the new hill to them; what there is over 1000 acres he is to pay proportionally after the rates of forty shillings a year for 500 acres forever, &c.—Ibid.

1646. JUDITH PAYNE [10], [41] note, widow of Moses PAYNE and also widow of Edmund GUYTON, married Capt. John Hull of Boston, whose first wife died May 3, 1646.—Ibid.

1711. After the great fire in Boston, "Thomas Brette and Mr. WILLIAM PAYNE were appointed on the part of the Town to make arrangement with a committee of the General Court for jointly constructing a House to accommodate both the Town and Colony." The building erected by the joint committee is the Old State House, now standing at the head of State st., Boston.—Ibid.

1719. At a Town Meeting held this year, Mr. WILLIAM PAYNE and others were appointed a committee "to consider about promoting of a grammar school or schools for the instruction of the children of this Town." On their recommendation, a building was erected and spinning schools were established "and spinning wheels became the hobby horses of the public."—Ibid.

117.] NEW HAVEN ITEMS.

WILLIAM PAINE of New Haven, admitted Freeman, and his land laid out the same year. May 4, 1647, "for neglecting to bring his arms at Saturday Lecture he was fined 6d; and for not being at church on Sunday before the Lord's day hearing, having a long way to come, and not leaving the 1st drum, fined 6d." Nov. 12, 1649, "asked the Court to release him from bringing his arms because on the Lord's day and lecture days because he lives a far off, and hath three children and his wife is lame and can not help to bring the children." The Court released him so long as his wife continued lame.—N. Haven Col. Rec.

1661, May 29. "The people of Southold, L. Island, made inquiry of the Court of Magistrates whether they might not choose such a drummer as was not a freeman and was chose by a general vote of y^e company. The Court answered, that b. cause of their present and his fitness, they allowed JOHN PAINE to be drummer, whom they nominated." Ibid.

HECKMAN
BINDERY INC.

MAY 85

N. MANCHESTER,
INDIANA 46962

